EXPERIENCE:

Ms. Stefanie Desalernos earned her Juris Doctor from Loyola Law School in May 2013. During law school, she gained meaningful civil litigation experience through participation in the Civil Litigation & Advocacy Concentration program, clerking at the Los Angeles Superior Court, and working both as an intern and post-par clerk at a firm specializing in construction defect and public entity matters.

Following her admission to the California Bar, Ms. Desalernos focused her practice on insurance defense. She has spent time working in-house for a major insurance company as well as within the private practice setting. She has experience handling general negligence, intentional torts, premises liability, and wrongful death matters.

Stefanie represents clients in a wide range of civil litigation matters, including premises liability, product liability, habitability claims, and catastrophic injury and wrongful death cases.

Outside of her legal practice, Stefanie enjoys spending time with her family.
