LYNBERG & WATKINS

EXPERIENCE:

Mr. Dane Morris is a Litigation Associate at Lynberg & Watkins representing clients in the construction industry. Mr. Morris' passion for construction law stems from his experience working in the industry, where he spent summers operating a skid-steer for his father's excavation business. Drawing on that experience, he is committed to providing strategic advocacy and solution-oriented communications for his clients.

Mr. Morris commenced his career with Lynberg & Watkins as a Summer Associate in 2025, thereafter joining the firm as a Litigation Associate upon graduation from the Fowler School of Law at Chapman University in May 2026. While in law school, Mr. Morris was an active and successful member of the school's Mock Trial Team, winning several competitions. He also regularly served as a volunteer mediator for the Superior Court of Orange County. Mr. Morris prides himself on effective communication, problem-solving, collaboration, and a strong foundation in legal writing and research.

In his free time, Dane is an avid fisherman and enjoys travel, the outdoors, sports, and fitness.
